MURDERED AND BURNED

FATHER, MOTHER AND CHILDREN KILLED

Assassin Makes Effort to Cover Crime by Setting Fire to House—Motive for the Terrible Crime Unknown.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 11.—It is now known that Julius Weber, his wife, their 19-year-old daughter Bertha and their son Paul, aged 14, were murdered last night by an unknown assassin, who set fire to the home in an effort to cover his crime. Before the fire had made any great headway the bodies of the murdered woman and her two children were rescued from the burning house.

Examination of the bodies showed Mrs. Weber and the children had been murdered before the fire had been started. The daughter had been killed by a pistol wound, as had been Mrs. Weber. On the boy's head were several deep cuts. He had also been shot. All efforts to reach Julius Weber, the father, who was not thought to be in the burning house, were abandoned until today, when a search was made in the burning timbers and his body found in the bath room of the dwelling. He, too, had been shot down before being left to be consumed by the flames. Weber's body was so badly burned that it has been impossible to ascertain how often he was shot.

One peculiar circumstance is that while the bodies of the mother and daughter were burned to some extent the apartment in which they were lying was not on fire when the firemen broke in, which showed they had been killed in some other portion of the house, partially burned and then dragged into the room where they were found. The robbery theory is about exploded, as no incentive has been found.

Adolph Weber, a son, aged 20, who is the only member of the family alive, talks but little, but to the coroner and sheriff he says he did not think the motive was either robbery or revenge. When asked if he had a theory he said he had, but would not give it. He did say, reluctantly, that his father had a violent temper. The boy said he left home about 6:30 and came downtown, purchased a pair of trousers and did several other errands. When he went to the fire he dropped his old trousers, which were in a bundle, in the burning building. Young Weber has a good reputation. Two 22-caliber revolvers were found, but the bullets extracted from the bodies were 22.

LOU DILLON

Broke World's Unpaced Trotting Record—Made Mile in 2:01.

Memphis, Nov. 11.—Lou Dillon snatched the world's unpaced trotting record to day by completing a mile in two minutes and one second flat. The former unpaced record of 2:01 1/2 was held jointly by Lou Dillon and Major Delmar. After scoring twice the word was given. The mare stepped the first warter in 30 seconds flat, the half in 59 1/2 and the three-quarters in 1:30. When well lengthened out for the flight to the wire Lou Dillon faltered slightly, but passed the judges' stand in 2:01.

BANK WRECKED.

Davenport, Iowa, Nov. 11.—Referee J. M. Heidwick to day declared the Dixon Savings bank bankrupt. The bank was wrecked some time ago, it is alleged, by Arnold Beuthien, its cashier, who is missing. Depositors at Dixon and New Liberty, where Beuthien is said to have wrecked another bank, will lose about $100,000.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

ELECTION RETURNS

No Changes by Later Reports From Various States—Maryland's Vote Close.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 11.—The official count of the vote of the state will probably not be completed before Monday. Of twenty-three counties about one-third have been counted. So far Roosevelt's plurality keeps about a hundred ahead, with indication that ex-Governor Brown, Dem., has been chosen elector along with seven Republican electors. This unusual circumstance was caused by voters incorrectly marking ballots.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Nov. 11.—Returns from counties received to day show decided Republican gains, adding to the safe majority received by Roosevelt. Of twelve counties still to hear from it will be impossible to get complete returns from eight for at least a week, as they are distant from railroad lines.

Kansas City, Nov. 11.—Returns from all counties, most of them official, give Roosevelt 28,251 plurality; Folk, Dem., for governor, 29,268.

Compilation of the vote of Missouri has been made by the Republic (Democratic) and Globe-Democrat (Republican). The Republic's figures show Roosevelt's plurality is 15,572; Folk for governor, 25,588. The Globe-Democrat estimates Roosevelt's plurality at 20,283; Folk's, 23,556.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln, Nov. 11.—Practically complete election returns from every county in Nebraska show Roosevelt's plurality is not less than $9,000 and Governor Mickey's plurality not less than $9,000. In the legislature on joint ballot Republicans will have 121 to none for the opposition, with one senatorial district in doubt. Should the Republican candidate win in this district the legislature will be solidly Republican.

COLORADO.

Denver, Nov. 11.—The Democrats now concede the election of three Republican congressmen in Colorado.

IOWA.

Des Moines, Nov. 11.—Complete unofficial returns from every county in the state received by the state auditor to day show the vote on president as follows: Roosevelt, 331,570; Parker, 165,850; Debs, 7,342; Swallow, 7,287; Watson, 1,791. These are the figures that will be canvassed by the board in December.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—Official returns from eighty-two out of ninety-two counties of Indiana give Roosevelt a plurality of 90,619. Other counties will probably increase this to 95,000.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Parkersburg, Nov. 11.—The Democrats have conceded everything to the Republicans in West Virginia, including five congressmen and the legislature. The only dispute is on the size of majority of Dawson for governor.

NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 11.—Revised tables of figures on the vote cast in this state show that Roosevelt's plurality is 176,627 and Higgins' $9,400.

BOXER UPRISING

Americans at Peking, China, Say Another Outbreak is Inevitable.

Milwaukee, Nov. 11.—A letter received by E. M. Gammon, of Beloit, from his son, Charles F. Gammon, of the American Bible society, Peking, contains sensational reports of another threatening boxer uprising in China. Gammon says a second boxer outbreak is inevitable and states that United States Minister Conger is alive to the danger and has notified Chinese officials that unless the movement is suppressed at once he will request United States troops to be sent to Peking.

SCIENTIFIC EXPERIMENT.

St. Louis, Nov. 11.—As a result of a scientific experimental balloon ascension made to day on the world's fair ground practicability and accuracy with which wireless messages could be received both as to altitude and distance were satisfactorily tested. More than twenty messages were transmitted from the world's fair wireless tower and received by an operator in the aerial craft.

ANNUAL DINNER.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 11.—To night one thousand students and alumni participated in the annual dinner of the Michigan union. Feeling among students over to morrow's foot ball game with Chicago is one of confidence in victory for Michigan. The Chicago team stopped at Jacksonville for the night and will arrive here during the morning.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PEACE

CREATE MUCH INTEREST IN LONDON

Queen Alexandra in Communication With Emperor and Empress of Russia—Positions of Armies Unchanged.

London, Nov. 11.—The dispatch from Washington confirming the statement made in these dispatches that Japan had indicated a willingness to entertain peace suggestions from President Roosevelt or King Edward created much interest here. Japanese Minister Hayashi said to day: "After the fall of Port Arthur Japan would, it is believed, be ready for peace on no higher or essential basis than that Russia also agreeing to similar evacuation." The Associated Press learns Queen Alexandra has been in constant communication with the emperor and empress and Emperor Nicholas during the last few days. This is interpreted here as a hopeful sign and as possibly likely lead, though not in the immediate future, to some modus vivendi whereby steps looking to arbitration might be initiated without offense to Russia.

London, Nov. 11.—There is no confirmation of rumors current Nov. 10 of the capitulation of Port Arthur. That General Stoessel was asking for an armistice, etc. According to the Telegraph's Chief Correspondent, Japan has consented to open the port of Antung to steamers chartered by silk merchants when the latter obtain special permits. This action is due to China's protest that exclusion of neutral shipping would ruin the silk trade.

FROM MUKDEN.

Mukden, Nov. 11.—There was a heavy exchange of artillery fire yesterday at the Russian right center. Russian batteries again shelled Japanese trenches and Japanese batteries responded. During the night Russian volunteers disclosed a detachment of Japanese infantry from trenches in front of Lone Tree hill. Japanese continue to show activity on the left bank, without, however, engaging in any serious movement. Comfortable digouts are being built along the Russian lines and the soldiers seem to think they will winter where they are. The idea that Oyama contemplates an attempt to take Mukden is not generally entertained. Both sides seem content for the present with the suspension of hostilities. Warm clothing is being distributed among the troops.

Mukden, Nov. 10. Via Tien Tsin. Nov. 11.—During the bombardment last night Russian shells threw sixty large medicine shells into a Japanese camp opposite Mamonon hill. It is known the Japanese have placed guns of large calibre in the vicinity of the Shakkai railway station, bringing Schmitt, next station to the north, within range of their fire. Great precautions are taken by Russians and their continued vigilance of disposition of forces would seem to guarantee their army against a repetition of disasters of enormous magnitude.

Reports of the grave condition of the besieged at Port Arthur have reached Mukden and as a consequence the Russians will not be surprised to learn of the capitulation of the fortress.

The prevailing conviction is that reinforcements received by the Japanese have been much larger than reported and consequently it is expected they will attack.

POSITIONS UNCHANGED.

Mukden, Nov. 11.—Positions of armies on both sides remain little changed, though there is continual skirmishing going on with the object of securing minor positions tending to strengthen respective lines of defense. Japanese have constructed in many places double and even triple and quadruple lines of trenches, wire entanglements, mines and pits.

WAR REPORTS.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 11.—A dispatch received here to day from Sakharoff announces last night passed quietly. He reports a couple of unimportant outpost affairs the previous day.

A corrected casualty list of the battle of the Shakkai river issued by the war office places total killed and wounded at 33,250, of whom 99 are officers.

There is a persistent but unconfirmed rumour that General Gribbenburg, commander of the Russian second army, was stricken with apoplexy at Vilna.

BANKERS SENT TO PRISON.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Herman Hass, charged with embezzling funds from the Corn Exchange National bank, pleaded guilty to day and was sentenced to the penitentiary for six years.

Jacob H. Plain, ex-cashier of the German American National bank of Aurora, pleaded guilty to day to the charge of embezzling $40,000 of the bank's funds and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

BROKERAGE COMPANY ASSIGNS.

Boston, Nov. 11.—The Federal Stock and Grain company, a brokerage concern having sixty offices in various cities of the country, assigned to day. The main office

MADE THEIR ESCAPE

Jackson Brothers and Friends Cannot Be Found by West Virginia Officers.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 11.—As the result of the killing of Constable Jackson in Montgomery by Policeman Elliott Wednesday and subsequent capture of the town by four brothers of Jackson at the head of about forty of their friends a reign of terror exists there. The mayor, being helpless, appealed to Sheriff Daniels yesterday. When Daniels and John Self were killed by Ed Jackson yesterday the saloons were at once closed and Governor White asked to send troops. The governor replied he would hold troops in readiness, but advised the forming of a large posse. If the posse should meet serious resistance troops will be sent to their relief. The Jackson followers escaped to mountain strongholds with which they are familiar. Bloodhounds were placed on the trail yesterday.

At a late hour to night all efforts to capture Edward Jackson, who shot and killed Sheriff Daniels and John Self in Montgomery yesterday, proved futile. Friends of Sheriff Daniels threaten to lynch Jackson if he is captured.

FRIGHTENED BY POLICE.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The apparently straightforward testimony of a boy convicting his own father of murder had a remarkable sequel to day in the discharge of the alleged murderer, John Wiltrix. The boy when taken from the influence of the police repudiated testimony given in the court and stated his accusations against his father was made under the stress of fear.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—James H. Ferris, chairman of the national committee of the People's party, has issued a call for a meeting to be held in this city next month for the purpose of forming a new national party. The chief articles upon which Ferris desires to form the new party are:

Government control of issuance and volume of money; postal savings banks; restoration of income tax; fullest possible protection to those who labor; initiative and referendum; local option in the sale of intoxicating drinks; no imprisonment by injunction; taxation and control of all corporations in the interest of the general public.

DANES FAVOR PEACE.

Copenhagen, Nov. 11.—The Danish government will accept President Roosevelt's invitation to participate in a second peace conference. The government considers that it is particularly desirable that a clearer international agreement be formulated regarding neutrality and contraband regulations. Negotiations for a treaty of arbitration between the United States and Denmark have been opened. The Danish government, it is declared, is glad of the opportunity to enter into such a treaty.

FEDERATION EXPELLED.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Formal notice was received to day revoking the charter of the Chicago Federation of Labor and that organization was expelled from the American Federation. The Chicago Federation refused to expel the Franklin Press Publishers and Steamers unions, hence the order for expulsion of that federation.

KILLED HIS SON.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 11.—Albert Hanson, a settler living twenty miles from Cohasset, while out hunting deer to day shot and instantly killed his son, whom he mistook for a deer. He immediately proceeded to Cohasset, where he gave himself up and subsequently attempted suicide.

MAY BENEFIT PHILIPPINES

PLAN TO REVISE TARIFF SCHEDULE

President Will Recommend to Congress Commission Be Given Authority—Work of Filipino Soldier Commended.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt will recommend to congress that authority be given the Philippine commission to revise the tariff now in force in those islands. The commission has as already prepared a scheme of revision with the view more to development of business of the islands than from a revenue standpoint.

Secretary Taft has decided to lay before congress a project for reduction of customs duties on goods entering the United States from the Philippines from the present rate, which is 75 per cent of those rates, the reduction to apply to sugar and tobacco, while all other Philippine products are to be placed on our free list.

PHILIPINO SOLDIER PRAISED.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Gen. J. P. Wadsworth, commander of the Philippine division, in his annual report commends the work of the Filipino soldier, but expresses opinion the actual value of the Filipino as a regular soldier is still an open question, adding: "His staying power when brought against a force equal or superior in number, drill and arms; his loyalty to those who employ him, and many other questions of vital importance have not been decided. He has to some extent been a pupil to the American soldier, but is far from being a graduate."

Wade approves the content, saying: "Under the eastern system more men will remain in the post, better dressed, have more money and more self-respect. The young recruit will be less liable to become a drunkard, as he will not be brought in contact with low dives that flourish in the near vicinity of military posts when prohibition rules on the reservation."

Washington, Nov. 11.—The inter-state commerce commission in an opinion by Commissioner Plouty (to day made public its decision in investigations of rebates and other privileges to terminal railroads. It is decided rebates which have been received by terminals in and about Chicago controlled by the International Harvester company and the United States Steel corporation have been excessive for services rendered by terminals in switching cars to and from roads leading to all sections of the country, and that it is unlawful under the inter-state commerce law and the Elkins amendment for any carrier to grant excessive division rates to another carrier owned by a shipper for the purpose of securing the traffic of that shipper.

SOCIALISTS SEEK CONTROL.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—The advance guard of delegates to the American Federation to Labor convention, who left here next week, arrived to day. At this late convention this matter occupied much time, but was defeated.

Jersey City, Nov. 11.—Frederick Bwe, a young tradesman, who had always borne a good reputation until he was arrested ten days ago on charges made by two little girls, died in a cell in the jail to day. Washington, Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt made the announcement to day that Hay would continue as secretary of state during the four year beginning March 4 next.

"You may state positively," were his words, "that Hay will continue as secretary of state up to the 4th of March, 1909." The president was asked regarding other possible cabinet changes, but indicated there was nothing to be said at present. His announcement regarding Hay was made to a number of newspaper representatives in his office late in the afternoon. Hay's succession to the state department portfolio fixes the most important place in the new cabinet and is the first and only step so far taken in that direction.

The raid resulted in the killing of six of the caravan's emissaries and carrying off by the bandits of sixty camels and a considerable sum of money.

PORTER SHOWS PRESENTMENT.

Puerto Rico, Nov. 11.—The Spanish ambassador Porter pointed out to M. READ DAILY JOURNAL, INC. WEEK.

OUTLOOK MORE OPTIMISTIC

ENLARGED BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY

Trade Has Been Retarded by Interest in Election and Unseasonable Weather—Reports Favorable for Future.

New York, Nov. 11.—Bradstreet's review of trade for the week says: Interest in elections and unseasonably warm weather in some sections have retarded trade, but the more optimistic outlook as to the future found reflection later in an enlargement of wholesale and jobbing business, firmer tone of prices and more activity in many leading industries. Official reports of past crop yield and advances of largely increased acreage in fall sown crops were contributory to confident feeling. In addition reports as to the outlook for the holidays and next spring's trade have proved favorable. Prices testify to demand pressing upon supply in a general level of quotations close to the highest record in the past decade. Of the country's leading products special activity is noted in iron and steel, coal, coke, hardware, hides, leather, groceries, lumber and building material, the latter two particularly at the west.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were 1,651,000 bushels, against 3,090,000 last year; July 1 to date, 25,388,000 bushels, against 61,902,000 last year. Corn exports, 18,000 bushels, against 1,388,000 a year ago; July 1 to date, 10,740,000, against 21,601,000 in 1903.

DUN'S REPORT.

New York, Nov. 11.—Dun's report says: All measures of trade indicated customary loss due to holiday interruption, but subsequently much of the deficit was regained, numerous evidences of increasing confidence being seen in disposition to place orders for distant shipment. Increased consumption of pig iron is also significant and in other leading branches of manufacture there is a steadily diminished percentage of late machinery. Developments in spinning, manufacturing industries are about up to the most sanguine expectations. Demand is broadening in a wholesome manner, large quantities calling for heavy tonnage of plates, wire, pipe and sheets; orders for structural shapes were heavier than at any previous time this year, and sales of bars were made at $2 above list prices.

Footwear manufacturers report satisfactory volume of supplementary orders from eastern jobbers for delivery early next year. Quotations are fully maintained and in some instances small advances have occurred. An upward tendency is still noted in leather. Little net change is recorded in leading textile industries. Buyers of cotton mill goods still operate cautiously, although sellers are more determined to secure full prices.

Failures this week numbered 23 in the United States, against 23 last year.

BANK CLEARING.

New York, Nov. 11.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet's for the principal cities in the United States the past week were $2,329,400,000, an increase of 12.8 per cent compared with the corresponding period last year.

NEW FAD IN TOWN

Many Men Getting a Sensible Habit.

In the last few days it has become the popular thing to step into Armstrong & Armstrong's drug store and get a pocketful of Wadsworth Bros. "Chicos," a 5c cigar that has caused many men to get what may be called the "Chicos" habit.

It is far more sensible to smoke a good 5c cigar like the "Chico" (and there is no other 5c cigar like it) than to pay double the price and get no better smoke. It is made with a clean, long Havana filler, and is especially pleasing to the man who has been smoking a 10c or two for a quarter cigar. It burns freely, and tastes good clear to the stub.

Try a "Chico" and see if you, too, do not get into the habit of frequenting Armstrong & Armstrong's drug store for your supply of cigars.

Foot Ball—Illinois college vs. High school, Tuesday afternoon college campus.

The South Side Circle met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John R. Davis. After the regular routine business a paper was read by Mrs. E. S. Young on "The Maritime Provinces in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick." She was assisted by Mrs. T. H. Buckthorpe, who spoke of the country and people in general. Miss Ida Goodrick told of the pleasure resorts to be found in this country. Excellent refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held Nov. 18 with Mrs. Armstrong on South Main street. Mrs. W. Robertson will be the leader and "The Old Regime in 1763" will be the subject.

POSSUM AND MONK.

Marian Meadows, the popular shoe shine man, on West State street, has added another animal to his menagerie for the amusement of his customers. The new addition is a possum, which was purchased from Lathrop Lashmet and bids fair to be a great help to the monkey in carrying out the difficult program of furnishing amusement for Mr. Meadows' callers. The monkey does not like his new partner, but Mr. Meadows says that they will soon get acquainted.

"EVERYMAN."

Green Day, Wis., Nov. 5.—Mr. Geo. C. Dent, Mgr., "Everyman" company, Chicago, Ill.: My Dear Mr. Dent: Were I to give free rein to my desire to express my appreciation of your production of "Everyman" in this city last Thursday night, I fear my words of commendation would seem unduly extravagant; nevertheless, I assure you, in all sincerity that I deem it as perfect a production, in every particular, of this old morality play as could possibly be given it.

"Everyman" stands so apart from present day stage performances, is so devoid of the devices of the modern stage to allure the senses of the spectator, so sublime in its very simplicity, that one witnessing it becomes wholly absorbed in the great and vital truth which it conveys.

Wishing you the fullest measure of success, I am, very truly yours, (Signed) J. H. Novins.

Reduced rates via THE ALTON to voters returning home to vote, provided with the proper certificate. Dates of sale, Nov. 6, 7 and 8; final limit, Nov. 9.

When the Republican landslide of Tuesday's election passed over and the roar subsided a little it was discovered that but one lone Democratic congressman was elected in the entire state of Illinois, and that one was Henry T. Rainey of the Twentieth district, and it is even said that Cor-nellius J. Doyle, better known as "Tip" Doyle, parole officer of the Chester penitentiary, contemplates contesting his election. The new delegation from Illinois will have in all probability the largest number of new members of any state. There are three of them—all new members.
They are Zeno J. Rives, Capt. Frank
S. Dickson and Charles P. McGavin.

LETTER FROM CHINA.
The following letter was received by Mrs. R. Daniels from her son Paul, who is serving on the battleship Oregon. The letter was written in Shanghai, China, and is very interesting, as showing the life of the boys in the marine service.

"Oct. 3, 1904.—Dear Mother: I received your welcome letter and was very glad to hear that the folks are all well. I would like to be at home so that I could go to the St. Louis fair with you, but I can't come. When I come home I will see St.
Louis, you bet. Well, you told me that Charlie McAlister was there. He will most likely see me in New York some time, as this ship might go there next spring, but I don't think so, as the people in Oregon would like to see her in Portland because she is named after that state. On account of her fine record at target practice she has the world's record. You ought to see the prize money that was paid out to the crew one Sunday at general muster. There was over $2,000 distributed and I got $7.50 myself. I was on the Col's automatic gun and we beat the world's record all to finish. Those guns shoot 500 times a minute, which is faster than you can count. They are mostly all new men on the ship now, as most of the men who came here on her are paid off. My time will be up in about one year and two months. We have been playing ball the time we have been in Shanghai. We played the game with the crew of the Wisconsin, flagship. We played the game off and lost it, thereby losing the cup. You can't beat a ship-ship if you want to, because the crew think themselves better than any one else.
We lost another man overboard again the other night. We heard him call for help and threw a life buoy to him, but it was too late, as he had already sunk, and we never saw him again. We had a preliminary target practice upon Nimrod sound, which is about one hundred miles from here. We brought the torpedo boats with us. They would attack us at night and we would have to get up, throw on our clothes, train the big guns upon them and send up powder and shells, which is no fun at all. The Askold, which is a big five-stacked Russian cruiser, came into port all shot up. She had eleven dead and sixty wounded on board, having just escaped from the Japanese about one hundred miles from here. I will now close for this time. Good bye. From Paul."

HIGH HONOR FOR CARNEGIE Bessemer Medal to Be Awarded to the Steel Magnate.

On Andrew Carnegie, the steel king, is soon to be conferred one of the greatest honors in the industrial world, the Bessemer medal which is given only to those who are pre-eminent in the iron and steel industry. Says the New York Herald, Established by the great inventor in 1875, the medal has been conferred at succeeding meetings of the Iron and Steel Institute on men whose inventions have been of a revolutionary character or whose researches have been considered of the utmost importance.

There is, however, a clause in the deed of gift on which the council of the Institute, the body which makes the award, has depended in making the award this year. This clause provides that "the council may, in their discretion, award the medal in any case not coming strictly under the foregoing definitions should they consider that the iron or steel trades have been or may be substantially benefited by the person to whom such award has been made."

"This award will be made on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Institute in New York to be held in a few days. About 250 of the most prominent men in the iron and steel industry abroad will be present.

Trolley Roads Everywhere.
Signs are not wanting that electric railroading is soon to take a much wider scope than the accommodation of local passengers, says the Pittsburg Gazette. It is becoming, if it has not already become, a rival to steam railroading. The suburban and interurban lines foreshadow the possibility of transcontinental systems.

HEAD DAILY JOURNAL, 30c WEEK

"EGYPTA"

THE WONDROUS STORY OF THE NILE

A Grand Success by Local Talent
Under the Management of the Author of the Opera.

A Brilliant Social and Musical
Event in Our City—Beauty, Talent, Elegance, Grace and Childhood Mingle in the Great Production.

The great event so long expected has come to pass and the first presentation of "Egypta" is a matter of history and will go down in the annals of Jacksonville as one of the crowning events in the musical and dramatic life of this musical and cultur-ed city. For its rendition the beauty, talent and grace of the city were drawn on liberally and supplied with lavish generosity, and the result was such a succession of lovely, grand and noble scenes as have seldom been witnessed in any place no matter what may be its size. To the credit of the people who took part, both young and old, it may be truthfully said that there was not a hitch or drag from start to finish. All went well and even the temporary failure of the electric lights could not dampen the ardor of the cast nor hinder the progress of the opera, and all was carried on right along as soon as the gas could be lighted.

The story of the production is laid in ancient Egypt, during the time of the oppression. The infant Moses is discovered at the river side by the daughter of Pharaoh, who needs to the request of Miriam to give the child to its own mother to rear. The boy grows to maturity, slays the Egyptian, flees to Midian, returns to Egypt, the plague ensues, the heart of the king relents and the Israelites are set free. The synopsis of the opera is as follows:

Act I—Banks of the Nile. Executions sent by Pharaoh to destroy children of the Hebrews.

Act II—Garden in the princess's palace. Years have elapsed and Pharaoh's daughter is about to adopt Moses.

Act III. Scene 1—A harvest field.
Hebrew slaves returning from their labor. Miriam's prayer. Rescue by Moses.

Scene 2—The land of Midian. The dispute. Jethro thanks Moses and offers him a home.

Scene 3—Near the home of Jethro.
Moonlight. Moses and Zipporah. The dawning of love.

Scene 4—"Visions of Angels."
Scene 5—Before Thebes. Egyptians awaiting to greet Pharaoh. Moses demands a release of the Hebrews.
The prince implores his father to be merciful. Refusal.

Act IV. Scene 1—The Catacombs.
Death of the first born son. Pharaoh relents.

Scene 2—Miriam's "Song of Triumph." Hebrew women rejoicing over their escape from bondage.

Scene 3—Near Mount Sinai. Jethro restores Zipporah to Moses. The "Pillar of fire" leading the Hebrews through the wilderness. Grand finale.
"Exalt Him, all ye nations."

Where the cast was so large and contained so many who were excellent, individual comment is out of the question. Two changes were made at the last moment. Mr. Hockenbush was sick and Mr. Stephens, the musical director, took the part very ac-ceptably. Baby Bell was displaced by Richard Clark, three months old,
and to the young man's credit it should be said that he bore the ordeal with becoming ability and dignity.

The vast audience which filled the house from top to bottom, the glare of the lights, the sounds of music and shouting all failed to disturb him, though there was a sense of relief on the part of the audience when the sweet cherub was restored to his mother's arms. Of course comparisons are odious and will not be undertaken more than to say the picture of the 250 little girls was such as is scarcely ever seen and was a delight and one which will be remembered as long as those present are able to retain in mind the scenes of the evening. The drill of the Loyal Legion was fine and showed that the boys had worked hard and with wonderful success. All the young ladies, too, in the various choruses, did remarkably well with their complicated actions in marching and counter-marching, kneeling and general work. The acting of the principals was excellent also, and showed that Jacksonville is fortunate in having in its midst a large number of young people who are equal to any emergency.

The stage setting was good and some of the mechanical effects fine.
The orchestra, too, comes in for its share of praise for the excellent work done in the rendition of the opera.

The audience was large and enthusiastic from start to finish. Many times they would have been glad to encore some excellent work, but the management wisely made it impossible from the fact that it was deemed best to go ahead without delays. From the first to the last good points were promptly recognized and all encouragement was afforded the young performers, who certainly showed a superior order of talent.

The Most Impressive Play Ever Written,
EVERYMAN

The Famous Fifteenth Century Morality Play, Presented by Rudolph E. Magnus

and a Company Conspicuous for Its Merit.
Dr. Furness, the most eminent Shakespearian scholar, said concerning the production of "Everyman" when it was produced in Philadelphia:

"It fully permits me to urge with all possible emphasis every student of dramatic literature, every lover of drama, every reader of the history of the customs and manners, every student of theological history, every Protestant churchman with his congregation, every Roman Catholic priest with his congregation, to see the Fifteenth century morality play 'Every-man.' Never again may such an opportunity be afforded. Not to have seen it is to have missed a life-long regret to all thoughtful minds."

They Grow with your Library.

This is the case that can be moved one unit at a time without disturbing the books—that can be arranged to fit most any space—that is protected by non-binding roller-bearing dust-proof doors—that is the handsomest, best, and only perfect sectional bookcase made. Our illustrations show several desirable combinations with prices for the cases furnished in golden quartered oak, weathered oak, or imitation mahogany. We furnish them in plain oak at lower prices or in genuine mahogany at higher prices. We also give prices of the different units or sections so the cost of additions to, or portions of,
any combination shown is easily determined.
One thing we don't and can't show here, and that is the beautiful finish and appearance of the cases. But we would like to have you call and see them—or will send catalogue.

ANNUAL CONTEST

Freshman-Sophomore Game Results in a Tie—Score 5 to 5.

The freshman and sophomore foot ball teams played a tie game Friday afternoon on the Illinois field. At the end of forty-five minutes of hard play the score stood 5 to 5.

The freshmen made the first touchdown on a fortunate 70-yard quarter back run by Osborne. Otherwise the entire play, except the kick-off, was in freshman territory. The sophomores advanced the ball at will, but the line failed to hold a critical point. Only twice did the freshmen make first down. The sophomore touchdown was made by McKinney after the ball had been worked by tackle plays from the 50-yard line. For the freshmen, Osborne played the star game and Orenar, Angerstein and Wyckoff showed up well. Stephenson for the sophomores made several long gains. W. T. Harmon, Thompson, McKinney, Kennedy and Wylder put up a good game. A large crowd of enthusiastic partisans witnessed the contest. Time was called at the end of the second half on the freshmen's 3-yard line.

The line-up:

Sophomores—Butler and Williams, right end; Nimes, right tackle; Newman, right guard; Stith, center; Stiff, left guard; McKinney, left tackle; Wylder, left end; Kennedy, quarter back; Harmon, right half back; Thompson, full back; Stephenson, left half back.

Summary: Referee—R. E. Harmon. Umpire—Richards. Linesman—Conover. Touchdowns—McKinney and Osborne. Time of halves—Twenty and twenty-five minutes. Score—5 to 5.

His Mysterious Friend

(Original.)
When Elliot Kirkland informed me of his engagement to Flora Stenhouse I felt a great deal of sympathy for him, that I did not express. Neither he nor Flora had a penny in the world, and I looked forward to a period in their lives when, the romance having worn away, they would find themselves in a hard, unadorned struggle. However, they were typical lovers, sitting up till near morning cooling and when parted spending all their spare time writing letters to each other. Elliot was a capable fellow, but opportunity did not seem to come to him, and he did not possess the faculty of making opportunity.

For a few months the couple were entirely taken up with the novelty of being engaged. Then the fact that they were not and not likely to be in a position to be married began to pull on them—that is, Elliot became despondent, while Flora fought her own battle with the grim outlook in silence besides bolstering her lover. Elliot was at work on a salary of $700 a year, without any prospect of promotion. Flora, realizing that her marriage was far in the distance, secured a position as teacher.

One day Elliot came to me in a wild state of excitement with a letter he had just received. "Look!" he said, all in a quiver. I read the letter, type-written on an engraved business letter head of a railroad company:

Dear Sir—You are appointed to the position of assistant auditor of this road with a salary of $1800 a year. Please state at your earliest convenience whether or you accept. Yours truly,

P. B. L., Secretary.

"Well," I said, looking up amazed, "where does the appointment come from? To whom are you indebted for it?"

"That's the conundrum," he replied. "It's as much a surprise to me as to you."

I questioned him with a view to helping him find a clue as to who had befriended him, but he seemed to know no one connected with the road, and I advised him when he replied to the letter to ask the question of his correspondent. He did so, but received no reply to his question. The general office of the road was in the east, and he bade me goodbye to go and enter upon his duties, leaving the cause of his appointment still unexplained. On his arrival he wrote me that it had been made during a meeting of the directors and that was all that was known about the matter.

Five years passed. Elliot Kirkland and Flora Stenhouse had been married, and I, having occasion to make a trip to the east, visited them at their home, a beautiful place in the suburbs. They had little children and were leading very happy lives. Indeed, my forecast of what their world would experience had been nullified in every respect. Elliot had been promoted within six months after his entry into the company's service to a higher position, and later the chief auditor was deceased and Elliot put in his place. I asked him if he considered that his ability to discharge his duties had anything to do with his good fortune, and he said that he did not. In the different positions he had accepted he had always been furnished with a "right hand man" who knew more about his duties than he did himself.

"At the time of my visit Elliot was receiving $10,000 a year. He was no nearer to a knowledge of the cause of his good fortune than when he received his first appointment. Indeed, the mystery thickened, as his advantages, for one morning on going to his office he found on his desk a type-written, unsigned note advising him to buy the stock of the road at a given figure and sell it at another given figure. He did not take advantage of the tip, but watched the sale of the stock, which fulfilled the conditions, and when more notes to the same purpose were left with him he followed their suggestions. In this way he became independently rich."

"One day the managing director and virtual owner of the road died. A few months later, when his estate was being settled, a paragraph appeared in a newspaper stating that his real estate had all been deeded in a different name from the one by which he was known. Then it leaked out that he had been a large operator in his younger days, had become involved and his methods had landed him in prison. Elliot wrote me of this, and I replied asking him if he could not in some way connect this singular development with his good fortune, but before my letter reached him I received from him a full explanation.

"In his youth Elliot had lived in the country near a state prison. One day a man suddenly appeared at his home clad only in his shirt and drawers. He told Elliot that he had been taking a bath in the river below and some boys had stolen his clothes. If Elliot would furnish him with an old suit he would be much obliged and would return an equivalent on reaching his home. Elliot gave him the clothes and the man went on his way. Later officials from the penitentiary came along hunting for an escaped prisoner. Elliot, who was a sympathetic fellow, could not find it in his heart to tell of his visitor and maintained a dogged silence.

"I have no doubt," Elliot concluded, "that the prisoner whose escape my beneficence made good was my benefactor. I saw the managing director on several occasions, but could not expect to recognize him, changed as he was. He wore his hair long and a full beard, while the man I helped had his hair cropped and his face shaven."

The SPORTING WORLD FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Hogan a Team in Himself.

Captain Hogan of the Yale varsity eleven is one of the best known football players in America. He is a remarkably versatile man, being well qualified to fill any position on an eleven except that of quarterback. Hogan first won renown as a tackle, and he is still playing in that difficult position. He is also used to advance the ball a great deal and has contributed largely to the success of the tackle back formation developed by Yale. In the games against Harvard and Princeton last year Hogan was by far the star of the Yale team. It is his ambition to form a team this year that will reverse the defeat by Captain De Witt's Princeton Tigers a year ago at New Haven.

Rematched Too Soon.

The rematching of Kid McCoy and Twin Sullivan so soon after their last contest will not be a success in the matter of gate receipts. It might be all right for the men to fight again after the lapse of a reasonable time, but to hurry them into a second match right away does not promise to be a profitable undertaking.

It doesn't matter how vigorously two men fight in their first battle, experience shows that they never draw as well in their second meeting if it follows on the heels of their first.

Had the club gone on and matched McCoy or Sullivan with an outsider or given them each a fight with a new man and then in the course of six months or so brought them together again it would in all probability have played to a full house, but getting them together so soon will undoubtedly result in a poor house.

Those who go to see a fight and pay their money for the privilege are apt to say: "What's the use in going to see those men fight? We saw them the other night do their best, and there is no reason for believing the result will not be the same."

Bowling Now Harmonious.

So far this season meetings have been held by several bowling leagues, and the interest manifested in the clubs has been greater than any previous year. New leagues are being organized, and the commercial and professional men will be more largely represented.

The settlement of vexed questions between eastern and western bowlers in the American bowling congress has restored unanimity all over the country, and the national championship at Milwaukee this year will undoubtedly draw a larger number of contestants than gathered at St. Louis last spring. From the west there comes a report of the reorganization of the National Bowling League, which was started last spring too late to be successful. With strong leagues in eight leading cities there is no reason why such a league should not become quite as popular for winter sport as baseball is for summer.

Geers' Great Pacers.

With Angus Punter, 2:04 1/2, and King Direct, 2:06 1/2, Ed Geers has about the most useful pair of pacers to be found in one stable just now. Neither one of these horses came fully up to expectations early in the season, but just now are racing in a way to please Marco Ed.

King Direct's new record of 2:06 1/2 makes him and his half sister, Cheery Lass, 2:06 1/2, the fastest pair of pacers from one dam out this year.

Clarke on Post Season Games.

Manager Fred Clarke of the Pittsburgh club says: "I am heartily in favor of post season games between the pennant winning teams of the two big leagues. They are a good thing from whatever point they are viewed."

Seale's Contract.

It is said that Manager Seale has signed a three year contract with the Chicago National league club, and that he is to get $10,000 per year for directing the club.

The American's Poorest Hitter.

Washington is bound to have the poorest hitter in the American league. Last year it was Townsend. Now it is Wolfe, who was next to last in 1903.

Joe Kelley Popular.

No player ever wore a uniform who has made and kept more friends than Joe Kelley. His hasty temper affords one that he should easily conquer.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Concerning Pillows.

It is a good plan to have all the pillows of the household made one size. Thus all the pillowcases can be made the same size and there is no confusion of inconvenience caused by trying to fit a small pillowcase upon a large pillow or vice versa. A comfortable size for pillows is 24 by 30 inches and each pillow weighing three and one-half pounds. The fashionable bed roll has relegated the bolster to the store closet. If you want some more comfortable cushions or pillows take the old bolster and make it into two nice pillows 24 by 21 inches and cover with the blue and white Japanese cotton crepe, with or without a ruffle all around.

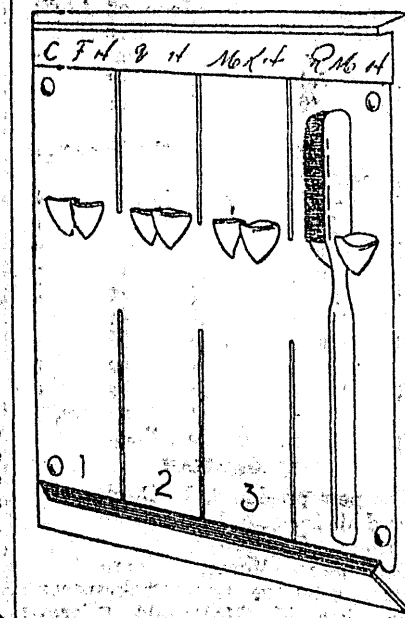

The Zinc Beneath the Stove.
The zinc underneath a range or stove should never be wet with a drop of water unless the water is wiped up with a dry cloth at once. If water spills on the zinc accidentally, wipe it up at once. After a cloth with kerosene and go over the zinc every day, and it will have the peculiar white shine that a clean zinc always has. If it has been neglected for a long time or improperly cared for, wash with ammonia and ashes, then wipe these up with soap and water, and wash the zinc with kerosene as if the oil were water.

Bishop Williams' Corn Bread.

Hot breads are always appreciated for breakfast and, properly made, are wholesome and digestible. Here is the recipe for a delicious corn bread: Sift together one cup of cornmeal, one of flour, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, a half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar and a half teaspoonful of soda. Add one cup of sour cream and two eggs, beat vigorously and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. If sour cream is not attainable, use sweet milk and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter.

Keeps Brushes Separate.

A Massachusetts woman has invented the novel device shown in the illustration, which is certainly a very good idea, especially from a sanitary point of view. The base of this tooth or nail brush rack can be made preferably of glass or similar vitreous material, although this is not particular, with holes at the four corners to receive screws, by means of which it can be secured to the wall or other support.

HANDY TOOTHBRUSH RACK.

Projecting from the face of the rack a little above the center are a number of projections, arranged in pairs, the upper surfaces of which are slightly concave, so as to prevent a brush which has been placed between a pair of these projections from slipping off. The upper edge of the back is constructed to hold a receiver in the form of a dovetail groove for the insertion of a removable strip on which the names of the owners can be written. On the lower edge a ledge is formed in the shape of a groove to receive any dripping. The face is also provided with a series of vertical strips, which serve to more clearly define the locations of the particular brushes, with numerals underneath to correspond with the names above.

Cleaning Paint.

Paint that has been washed in the spring or woodwork of a natural finish can be made bright and clean in the fall by merely rubbing it down with a cloth dipped in kerosene. Always use clean kerosene and wool rags and discard one every few minutes, for there is no use rubbing with soiled cloths. These cloths if washed at once will be clean with very little work, for the oil helps make them white.

Washing Soda in the Kitchen.

A jar of washing soda near the kitchen sink is indispensable. After taking a roast from the pan put some soda into the latter with boiling water. When ready to wash the grease will come easily from the pan. Soda also keeps the kitchen drainpipe sweet and from being clogged.

The Invalid's Room.

Do not try to sweep an invalid's room, but wring a clean cloth out of cold water to which a few drops of ammonia have been added and carefully wipe the carpet, matting or floor, turning and rinsing the cloth and changing the water as it gets dry.

Care of Stockings.

New stockings should always be washed before they are worn. The washing hardens the threads, and the stockings will wear better than if the washing is omitted.

The Bread Board.

Bread boards should occasionally be scrubbed with a little salt, which helps to whiten the wood.

THE ENEMY'S RE-ENFORCEMENT

(Original.)

"Why don't you sell that grove, Captain Birney?" cried the general angrily, siding up to a battery that was receiving a heavy fire without replying.

"General," stammered the captain, "do you—must I—fire into that grove?" The general glared at the officer and half drew his sword, then, sheathing it, he said: "Do you want me to cut you down for mutiny? Have you lost your head through cowardice or are you afraid of hurting the Yankees?"

Birney seized the lanyard of one of his guns and pulled it so fiercely as to break it. The shot was a signal for every gun in the battery to open fire, and a storm of shells went crashing through the trees.

"Now move your guns forward," said the general, "and give it to them."

Birney, with a life in death expression, advanced his battery, stopping occasionally to empty his guns, till at last the fire from the grove ceased altogether. The general continued beside Birney, directing the operations in person, and now ordered him to take his battery through an open gate along a carriage way past a large dwelling with colonial pillars in its front and place them on the crest of a slope, looking toward the valley, where the Federals were in evidence. As soon as this was done the commander turned to Birney and said sharply:

"Go to the rear under arrest."

"General," replied the young officer, sheathing his sword, "I crave your permission to first go into the house yonder."

"What for?"

"To see if the inmates are alive."

"The inmates? What are they to you?"

"The world. There I was born. There less than a year ago I was married. It is not a week since I received word from my wife that she had in that very house just been delivered of a son. General, for God's sake let me go in and see if I have killed my wife and child."

The general stared at the young captain for a moment, then threw himself from his horse, and the two hurried into the house. They found desolation. There was neither sound of footsteps nor voice. But hark! The cry of an infant. With a common impulse they started forward, Birney leading the way, to a door, through which they passed to the cellar.

On a wicker lounge lay a young woman, her face white as ashes, her eyes closed. Standing beside her was a white haired man holding a tumbler, while kneeling an elderly lady fanned the invalid or the dead, none knew which. At the head of the couch stood a negro mammy rocking in her arms a baby and soothing it with soft words.

In a fury of tears the young husband and father, pointing to the livid woman, exclaimed:

"This, general, is what has induced you to brand me as a coward. You have forced me to fire on my wife, who but a few days ago had endured the pains of childbirth—an innocent babe. You have ordered me to the rear under arrest. Here is my sword; take it. I have no further use for it. I will never draw it again. I wish to God I had disobeyed your order and you had cloven my skull."

The general seized the young man's hand and whispered hoarsely:

"Boy, it wasn't I. It was war—grim, murderous, horrible war—war not for Christians, for fiends; not for a fair world, for hell."

At the moment there was a cry from the babe. The mother heard it and opened her eyes. There came a lighting up of the white face as she recognized her husband. Then the lids fell again.

A heavy tread was heard on the floor above, and a voice asked for the general. An officer's face appeared at the head of the stairway.

"General," he said, "the Second brigade is being cut to pieces. They need reinforcements."

"Never mind the Second brigade. They are men. Ride, quick, and bring a surgeon—for a woman."

The general turned to the group. Birney was kneeling beside his wife, begging her to open her eyes again—to live for his sake. She raised her lids languidly and tried to put her arms around his neck, but they would have fallen limp had he not clasped them for her. The old lady took the babe from its nurse and placed it with its father and mother. The old soldier stood by with bowed head, vainly endeavoring to keep the moisture from his eyes.

Then he turned to attend to sterner duties.

The next morning the southern forces withdrew from the field and moved southward. The young wife and mother was so far recovered that Birney, though permitted by the general to remain with her, stuck by his command.

The general could never be brought to look complacently upon his having ordered a husband and father to fire on his wife and newborn babe. He wished to make reparation and at the same time refrain from laying bare so delicate a situation. His deliberations resulted in publishing the following order:

The gallant conduct of Lieutenant Clarence Birney in driving the enemy from the Birney homestead, he having to face a re-enforcement, requiring courage of the highest order, afforded an example of perfect soldiery never before witnessed by the commanding general.

Meanwhile the "re-enforcement" was not troubling himself about the general's order. He slept fifteen hours a day and when awake was principally interested in pulling on a bottle.

Save Your Daughter

No. 125 West 88th Street,
New York City, N. Y., April 8, 1908.

Wine of Cardui has been a blessing to my home. I have often found that it was a great relief when I was weary or in pain, but I am especially grateful for what it did for our daughter and only child. I noticed that her menses were tardy and she suffered with headaches and giddiness, heaviness in the abdomen and about the loins. This seriously interfered with her studies and she had to discontinue several of them.

A visitor calling on me and discussing the matter suggested that I give her a course of your Wine of Cardui as it had relieved her daughter of a similar trouble. After my daughter had used it for five weeks I found a great improvement in her looks, health and behavior; in fact she was a different girl. The flow became regular and we have not had any difficulty since.

Lydia H. Thompson
TREASURER, BATHON MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION.

WINE OF CARDUI

Here the menstrual function had not been properly started and the natural condition was making the young girl an invalid. The headaches and giddiness, indicated something more than a mere temporary ailment. They were symptoms of a functional weakness which would become more and more aggravated as years went by. But Mrs. Thompson was ready to take advice for her daughter's welfare and she gave the little sufferer Wine of Cardui and now she is a well young woman.

If your daughter is sickly and frequently ailing the letter of this good mother contains the best advice you can follow.

Wine of Cardui is the menstrual regulator that cures nine cases out of every ten. Young girls, mothers and aged women find this tonic indispensable. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

The Kookuk man-hunters have proven to be successful, says the Kookuk Democrat, Daley's dogs finding murderer Groves' body at Green Bay last week after being put on the scent. It was the first trial of the dogs in a real criminal case, and while the body would likely have been found that same day without their aid, it proved that the animals may some day be of great service in tracking down a criminal.

The Greene county Teachers' association will hold a two days' meeting at Carrollton on the 25th and 26th. A fine program is being prepared. Dr. A. R. Taylor, president of Millikin university, and J. K. Stableton, city superintendent of schools at Bloomington, have been engaged for lecturers.

SUDDEN SUMMONS

Judge William H. Barnes of Arizona Called by Death—Former Resident of This City Had Successful Career.

Judge Charles A. Barnes received a telegram Friday morning announcing the sudden death of his brother, Judge William H. Barnes, of Tucson, Ariz., who passed away at his home in that city at 9 o'clock Thursday night. Mr. Barnes had apparently been in his usual health and his sudden death comes as a great shock to his family and friends. From early manhood he had led a very busy and active life, and in the communities where he had lived had figured prominently in business and social circles.

William Henry Barnes was born in Hampton, Conn., May 14, 1843, and was the son of Rev. and Mrs. William Barnes. He removed with his parents, to Illinois in 1860, and in the same year he enrolled as a student at Illinois college. He completed his junior year in that institution and then went to Ann Arbor, Mich., where he was graduated from the law department in the class of 1865. Later he read law with Hon. William Brown, of this city, and in 1868 was admitted to the bar. He at once began the practice of law in this city, where he remained until 1885. He was one of the most successful practitioners at the local bar, and was the attorney in a number of prominent civil and criminal suits. In 1870 he was elected a member of the constitutional convention of Illinois, and from 1872 to 1874 served as a member of the legislature from this district. He was a member of the Literary union, and also of Upsilon lodge No. 243, I. O. O. F.

In 1885 he was appointed judge of the supreme court of Arizona by President Cleveland, and removed to Tucson, Ariz., where he had since resided. During his residence in Arizona he had been concerned and taken a prominent part in most of the important litigation in the territory, and at the time of his death was counsel for the Greene Consolidated Copper company, one of the largest mining concerns in the territory.

In 1872 Mr. Barnes was married to Miss Belle J. Daily, of Hancock county, who survives him. One daughter, Mrs. J. H. Martin, of Tucson; one brother, Judge Charles A. Barnes, of this city, and one sister, Mrs. M. V. B. Elson, of Freeport, also survive. After leaving Jacksonville Mr. Barnes became a member of the Elks and of the Knight Templars.

His life work has been characterized by large successes and he was called to the land beyond at a time when he was in the zenith of his career. His many friends in this city will learn of his demise with deep sadness, and his afflicted family will have the sincere sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

The arrangements for the funeral are not definitely known.

DEATH RECORD

James Keys, formerly of this city, and who will be remembered by many, died at his home in Chicago at 6 o'clock Thursday evening of Bright's disease, after an illness of four weeks. He was a brother of Mrs. Thomas Brunk, of this city.

Funeral services will be held in Chicago Sunday.

FUNERALS

DOBYNS. The funeral of John Bristow Dobyns was held at the residence on West State street Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was largely attended by relatives and friends, who had honored and respected him in life. The services were in charge of Rev. Dr. Morey and were very impressive in character. A choir, consisting of T. H. Rapp, Dr. M. H. Goodrick and Philip Read, sang appropriate selections.

The offert offerings were exceedingly beautiful and were in great profusion. They were in charge of Mrs. Young, Mrs. Greenleaf, Miss Greenleaf and Misses Jessie and Sallie Holmes.

At the conclusion of the services the remains were borne to Diamond Grove cemetery and were there laid to rest, with the ritual of the I. O. O. F. The bearers were: Col. E. C. Kreider, Andrew Russell, A. Gregory, J. T. Osborne, R. R. Chambers and Frank Moseley.

CLIFFORD. Funeral services over the remains of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clifford, of Chicago, were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lambert Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock, in charge of Dr. W. F. Short. The services were very private and simple in character. After Scripture reading and prayer by Dr. Short, Mrs. Will Short sang a beautiful lullaby, "Sleep, Sweet Little Baby of Mine."

There were a large number of beautiful floral offerings, sent by thoughtful friends. The remains were interred in Diamond Grove cemetery.

MATRIMONIAL

PRATT-KEIL.

One of the most brilliant society weddings of the season in Beardstown was that of John G. Pratt to Miss Alma Keil, which was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mayor and Mrs. H. C. Keil, Wednesday evening. The affair was elaborate in all its details and a large number of friends were in attendance. Rev. F. Berg, of the Sixth Street Lutheran church, performed the beautiful ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Eda Pappucier, and the groomsmen, H. Savage, of Virginia. Miss Viola Hackman, of this city, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march.

Mr. Pratt is a well known business man of Virginia, and is also well known here, where he formerly attended Illinois college. The bride is one of the most popular young ladies of Beardstown.

HE COULD HARDLY GET UP.

P. H. Duffy, of Ashley, Ill., writes: "This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and that it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before commencing its use I was in such shape that I could hardly get up when once down. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store."

Care of Poultry.

Poultry should be fed, fed and housed properly, and this requires study, labor, patience and perseverance. Their quarters should be kept in the best condition possible. They should be kept clean and whitewashed frequently. The roosts should often be rubbed with kerosene to destroy and keep off vermin. Pure water and different kinds of clean food, including green stuff and grits, should be properly supplied.—Farm and Ranch.

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at last a half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store."

A Sultan's Jeweled Teeth.

The sultan of Johore has recently been creating a sensation in London, riding in a motor car glorified with gorgeous crests and coats of arms. He has a wonderful set of teeth—all his own—each of the front ones having a diamond set in it encircled with gold.
